Navigating to IR Reports on the New IARE Website

The website for the Office of Institutional Assessment, Research and Effectiveness has undergone some major revisions. These revisions reflect the recent reorganization of these functions into a single unit. We are also streamlining our reports and preparing for the IARE dashboard that is in development. This effort resulted in some significant changes to the IR section of the website. This document provides information on how to navigate the revised website to locate various IR reports.

On the main IARE website, select Institutional Research from the menu bar on the left. This will take you to the revised IR page.

On the IR page, our reports have been reorganized into broader categories.

Two categories that are of interest to most users are Profiles and Outcomes. This is where the most current IR reports can be found.

Older reports can be found under Historical Data. This includes all of the reports that previously appeared on the IR website.
